Certain S lines are to be computed not by adding the entry lines, but by deducting entry lines.

Please note that the following structural changes have been made respective to the circular IML 97/136:

- All lines have one more digit, i.e. a zero is added to the end, except
- 1112 which becomes 11111
- 1113 which becomes 11112
- 1114 becomes 11120
- 1115 becomes 11130

The order of the lines transmitted is not important, but it would help reading the file if it was an alphabetical order, either ordered by the line number part, or by the ISO-part of the line. Please refer to circular IML 97/136 for a list of valid ISO country codes. This list will be regularly updated. Please note that the country code for Zaire has been changed from ZR to CD, as the Republic of Zaire became the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

4. Verification rules

- All entry lines and included lines (E and I lines) are mandatory. In sub-table 2 existing ISO codes and line numbers must be reported only if there is a corresponding amount to be reported. In sub-table 3 existing ISO codes must be reported only if there is a corresponding amount to be reported.
- The 1-91000 is an included line, thus its amount may not be larger than the amount in line 1-90000.
- All amounts have a credit trend, except lines 1-60000, 1-70000, 1-71000, 1-72000, 1-80000 which may have a debit trend (only 1-71000 and 1-72000 are entry lines).
- The total of the 'S'-marked lines in sub-table 2, referring to 1-11000, must be equal to line 1-11000.
- The tests enumerated in the circular IML 97/136 can be done for the use of the central administration but need not be for the aim of transmission to the CSSF, as the right side of the equation does not concern lines to be reported.
- Each total of the lines 11000XY through 11400XY, 13200XY and 14100XY, where XY is to be replaced by all possible currencies used by the table, of sub-table 2 must correspond to the amounts of each of the line referred to in sub-table 1. The total of the lines in sub-table 3 must be equal to 100.
